

A close-up, high-contrast photograph of a snake's head, focusing on the intricate pattern of its scales and the tip of its forked tongue. The lighting is dramatic, highlighting the texture and creating deep shadows. The text 'COLD-BLOODED ANIMALS' is overlaid in a bold, white, distressed font.

COLD-BLOODED ANIMALS

Logline

As Abel and Miranda, two complete strangers to each other, process the shocking news and the mysterious circumstances of how their romantic partners were found dead, they decide to lean on each other in order to grieve, find meaning to life, and hide their deepest secrets and desires.

Lead Characters

MIRANDA - 20s, an introvert. She says a lot more with her eyes than with words; and thus, she's always hard to read. One can tell that she has had a relatively good, easy life... although that is about to change her forever. She is well-mannered, and her look is plain and simple. But the true Miranda hiding inside her is not so innocent and calm, and as she starts to reveal those layers, one can get a glimpse of the cunning woman hiding behind the victimizing façade.

Lead Characters

ABEL - 20s, a mysterious young man, with mood swings that are capable of setting his soul on fire in a second. He's impulsive, but also extremely honest and transparent... or at least, that's what he appears to be. His life has been broken ever since the disappearance of his wife. His physical appearance evidences his devotion to vices, which he uses in order to appease the demons he's carrying inside... but it doesn't always turn out to be that simple.

Mood Board

